Struer has a high degree of entrepreneurship and has also established a local development park, BusinessPark Struer, which is an incubator environment with particularly favourable conditions for entrepreneurs and businesses. Here companies can get advice and coaching as well as find new collaborative relationships.
www.businessparkstruer.dk

Technology

The world-renowned company Bang & Olufsen has special significance to Struer, not least because of the many jobs the company has historically contributed to the municipality, but also because of the plethora of entrepreneurs and companies that are in one way or another related to Bang & Olufsen. For the same reason there are many technology jobs in Struer and the municipality has the ambition to strengthen its business position within the areas of technology, creativity and experience economy.

Food

West Jutland is Denmark's larder. Food and the associated businesses are among the largest industries in the area and represent a large proportion of the municipality's economy and employment. There are good raw ingredients to be found in the nature of western Jutland that make for a unique culinary experience. The ingredients, which are used in the country's famous restaurants focusing on Nordic Cuisine, can also be found at the local restaurants and producers. www.madlandet.dk

Climate and Energy

Struer Municipality also has a leading position in the area of climate and energy, as the green resources are largely produced in the central and western Jutland region. In Struer Municipality there is a focus on intelligent energy management systems in municipal buildings and on renovation campaigns for private households. The municipality's wind turbines produce in total more electricity than the households in Struer consume – and the energy cluster at Måbjerg between Holstebro and Struer means that in the future there will be energy production based solely on biomass.

www.maabjerg-bioenergy.dk

Cooperation with Knowledge Environments

Struer is aware of the importance of attracting businesses and specialized workers to the area. This is why the municipality cooperates with regional and national knowledge environments in order to achieve a close interaction between new knowledge, businesses and municipal institutions. Infocenter Struer ensures that a friendly welcome awaits new employees and citizens in Struer.

CITY OF SOUND

SOUND has a special significance in Struer. For nearly 90 years, the world-renowned company Bang & Olufsen has not only been a design icon and a synonym for acoustic perfection, it has also helped to shape the life of the region and town. It has been a central workplace for thousands of individuals and a catalyst for the entire area's identity and focus on technology and design.

CITY OF SOUND is about branding, business development, experiences, events and new services and welfare solutions.

Sound and Business

In Struer Municipality sound is an engine for development and growth of many private companies, in culture and tourism and in municipal institutions and agencies working in education or providing welfare services. Several of these are based in the entrepreneurial environment in Business-Park Struer.

Here you find a centre for competence development that offers focused business advice for entrepreneurs, young companies and growth companies engaged in the development and/or production in the area of sound and acoustics.

Global sound waves

A key element in the City of Sound is that Struer Municipality makes itself, its institutions, urban spaces, employees, etc., available for approaches with sound as the focal point. This allows companies, knowledge environments, etc., to test their products "on location" instead of in a laboratory.

Denmark has a unique position in the world when it comes to sound. Almost every second hearing aid on the world market is Danish – and Danish companies are also at the top in areas such as research, loudspeakers and electronic components for the audio industry.

Struer occupies a special place in this regard and makes a great contribution to Denmark having such a strong position in the global market.

Sound and Welfare innovation

Social developments are putting an increased focus on complex relationships and increasing demand for new and better welfare solutions. In Struer we would like to make the town and municipality a great place to live and work and the City of Sound is one of the solutions to the challenges we face!

It is about creating new and better opportunities and services for citizens in a smarter way. The opportunities and challenges that sound represents must be explored and tested – across the ranges and hierarchies. So in Struer all municipal officials, departments and institutions are working to put sound into practical application in their particular area.

In Struer, sound will also be used in connection with urban development – for example, in terms of creating urban spaces where all year round the sound makes residents and visitors want to come out of their houses and into the urban space.

Sound is used in Struer for learning in our education programmes since the understanding of sound is essential for the ability to visualize and reflect – and thus the ability to innovate.

In Struer, sound is used as an aid to persons with functional disabilities or to create an acoustic that gives citizens or employees a better daily life.

Sound and Culture

Sound surrounds us wherever we find ourselves – and sound affects our perception of things and places. In Struer, sound is used to make fun, exciting and different experiences out of our cultural offerings, natural experiences and special places and sights.

We would like to invite people who live in or visit the town to use our cultural offerings and many natural experiences, where the sound is something special – whether it is the lapping of the waves in the Limfjord, experimental sound exhibitions, sound installations in urban spaces, concerts, events or conferences and seminars on sound with an international standard.

Find more information at www.cityofsound.dk.

FUTURE STRUER

In Struer we want to create a vibrant town centre – a meeting place with a focus on trade and culture. The rural districts and small urban communities in the municipality also play a significant role in the municipality's continued development. 'Close to People, Technology and Nature' is the tagline for the strategic priorities in Struer Municipality's development strategy.

Close to people

Settling

We want Struer to develop into being the natural choice when settling in North-West Jutland. The municipality has attractive plots at reasonable prices and supports the many successful local communities. The excellent rail connections to Aarhus, Herning, Viborg, Thisted and Copenhagen provide good commuter options.

Struer Energi Park

Leisure Centre Struer will be a modern sports centre and a dynamo for the development of associations, sports and health in Struer. The health café, multipurpose hall, nursery area, outdoor spaces and flexible facilities for common use by all of the municipality's associations will make Struer Energi Park a great benefit for the whole area.

The Limfjord Health Spa

Spring 2014 saw the opening of the Limfjord Health Spa, a 900 m<sup>2</sup> wellness and rehabilitation centre. Research shows that music helps to improve a runner's performance, and with music, you can perform up to 15 % more than usual. It is not only due to the fact that it leads attention away from pain and exhaustion, but the rhythm also backs up the motor coordination, which then affects the mood and releases more energy. For this specific reason, a lineup of DJ's will set up along the beautiful route in the city of sound, and with their pumping rhythms, they will help motivate the many runners to perform optimally. The race climaxes in a concert, held on the lawn at the factory areas of Bang & Olufsen, where some of the greatest musical names in Denmark will turn up to get the party going. ### Children's Culture Week

In late May, the Children's Library organizes a Children's Culture Week. The entire week is filled with performances, exhibition openings, shows, dancing and activities for children. On Friday morning there is a carnival through the streets of Struer and the week ends with children's activities on Friday afternoon in front of Folkets Hus.

"Krible-Krable" Day

Every year in June biologists from Struer Municipality invite you to a free "Krible-Krable" day on Bremdal Beach. Here the children compete to catch the biggest crab, taste delicacies from the fjord and learn about Limfjord wildlife. Will be advertised in the local press.
